RECENT BIBLIOGRAPHY

[Occasionally, readers call our attention to errors in the entries, usually of a minor typographical character. Under the pressure of getting HAN out, some proofreading errors occasionally slip by. For these we offer a blanket apology. We call attention to the listings in the Bulletin of the History of Archaeology, the entries in the annual bibliographies of Isis, and those in the Bulletin d'information de la SFHSH (Société française pour l'histoire des sciences de l'homme)—each of which takes information from HAN, as we do from them. We welcome and encourage bibliographic suggestions from our readers.]

ANNOUNCEMENTS

In Memoriam: William C. Sturtevant. Anthropologist, Smithsonian Institution Curator of North American Ethnology, and longtime member of the HAN editorial board William C. Sturtevant passed away on March 2, 2007. Sturtevant was a leading scholar of indigenous New World languages, cultures, and histories. During his long career, Sturtevant made important contributions to scholarship on Eastern American ethnohistory and ethnobotany, anthropological museology, and the history of anthropology. He served as the general editor of the Handbook of North American Indians, and the president of the American Society for Ethnohistory (1965-1966), the Council for Museum Anthropology (1979-1981), and the American Anthropological Association (1980-1981). Sturtevant's professional papers will be preserved by the Smithsonian's National Anthropological Archives. Look for Jason Baird Jackson's article-length reflection on the career of William Sturtevant in the December issue of the History of Anthropology Newsletter.

John C. Burnham Early Career Award. The Forum for History of Human Science (FHHS) and the Journal of the History of the Behavioral Science (JHBS) encourage researchers early in their careers to submit unpublished manuscripts for the annual John C. Burnham Early Career Award, named in honor of this prominent historian of the human sciences and past-editor of JHBS. The journal will publish the winning paper with a notice of the award, and the publisher will provide the author of the paper an honorarium of $500. Unpublished manuscripts dealing with any aspect(s) of the history of the human sciences are welcome. Eligible scholars are those who do not hold tenured university positions (or equivalent); graduate students and independent scholars are encouraged to submit. "Early career" is interpreted to include the period up to seven years beyond the Ph.D. Since competition may be high in any given year, scholars are encouraged to re-submit in subsequent years, as long as
