Pennsylvania's Oldest Bequest
New Overseers

The University Trustees approved the appointment of four new members to the School's Board of Overseers.

Miss Henrietta K. Alexander, Coatesville, recently returned to Pennsylvania to become more actively involved in her family's cattle and Thoroughbred breeding interests. Her grandfather, the late Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., developed the Santa Gertrudis cattle breed.

Mrs. Ann Eldredge, Middleburg, VA, breeds and shows English cocker spaniels. Together with her husband, the late E. Irving Eldredge, she bred and raised an outstanding line of Irish setters and exotic cattle at their Tirvelda Farm in Virginia. Mrs. Eldredge has been a member of the Ladies Committee of the Small Animal Hospital since 1980.

C. Taylor Marshall, Oakmont, PA, is chairman and president of the Edgewater Corporation. He is Master of Foxhounds of the Sewickly Hunt Club and serves as a director of the American Foxhound Association and the Master of Foxhounds Association of America.

Mrs. Anne F. Thorington is a breeder of Thoroughbred horses. Recently she has begun to show dogs, and her new Pembroke Welsh corgi finished its Champion title while still under one year of age.

New Field Service Building

The Field Service at New Bolton Center moved into its new quarters in February. The new building is of modular construction and contains five individual offices and a reception area. There is also a conference room. The basement is used as storage space for old medical records and other documents.

Pennsylvania's Oldest Bequest

"In the name of God Amen. I John Keble of the City of Philadelphia, Gentleman being of sound mind, memory and understanding, praiised be the Lord for the same and all other his mercies do hereby make my last Will and Testament."

So begins a document dated September 24, 1807, in the files of the University of Pennsylvania. In his Will, Keble directed that his estate be divided among charitable institutions after bequests to his friends, his church, and a hospital.

Search Committee

University of Pennsylvania Provost Thomas Ehrlich announced the make-up of the search committee to recommend a successor to Dean Robert Marshak, whose term will be completed as of June 1987.

The committee is chaired by Dr. Mark E. Haskins (V'69), associate professor of pathology, pathobiology, at the School. Other School faculty members on the committee are: Dr. Lawrence T. Glickman (V'72), associate professor and Chief, Section of Epidemiology; Dr. Adrian R. Morrison, professor of anatomy; Dr. David M. Nunamaker (V'68), Jacques Jenny Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery, Chief, Large Animal Surgery; Ms. Lynn M. Walker, Class of '87, and Ms. Tania D. Woeber, Class of '89, are the two student members.

In addition to the representatives from the Veterinary School, the committee has four other members. They are: Dean Jan Lindhe, School of Dental Medicine; Dr. Stephen Roth, chair, Department of Biology, professor of biology; Dr. Roy D. Schmickel, professor and chair, Human Genetics, School of Medicine; Dr. Rosemary A. Stevens, professor of history and sociology of science.
