1-1-1987

Announcements
ANNOUNCEMENTS

Modernism and Anthropology. Marc Manganaro, of the Department of English of the University of Hawaii at Manoa, is editing a volume on this topic. Scholars of literature, languages and the social sciences are encouraged to submit proposals of 2-3 pages or completed papers of 15-40 typescript pages until August 15. Of special interest are essays that treat the relation between the literature and culture of 1900-1945 and then-current anthropology, and papers that apply contemporary theoretical considerations are especially welcome. Papers can be previously presented or published (though not in book form).

GLEANINGS FROM ACADEMIC GATHERINGS

April 1986--Society for American Archaeology (New Orleans): Edwin Lyon organized a symposium on the preservation of archeological records, with papers by Cal Calabrese, Chris Peebles, Ruthan Knudson, Joseph Tiffany and Lyon.

November 1986--Indianapolis Archaeology Conference: James Madison, of Indiana University, delivered a paper on "Eli Lilly: Patron of Midwestern Archaeology."

May 1987 Explaining Archaeology's Past (Carbondale, Ill.): Nearly sixty scholars interested in the history of archaeology met at Southern Illinois University on May 1-2 for a conference organized by Andrew L. Christenson on "Explaining Archaeology's Past: The Method and Theory of the History of Archaeology." Nineteen historians of archaeology