7-1-1987

Dean Marshak Honored

This paper is posted at ScholarlyCommons. http://repository.upenn.edu/bellwether/vol1/iss21/15
For more information, please contact libraryrepository@pobox.upenn.edu.
Dr. Peter Ihrlke (V'72), associate professor of dermatology at the University of California, Davis, School of Veterinary Medicine, was elected the incoming president of the American Academy of Veterinary Dermatology. In December, Dr. Ihrlke received the HAL Award for contribution to veterinary dermatology given by the World Small Animal Veterinary Medical Association at their international meeting held in Paris, France.

The Research Foundation of the University of Pennsylvania awarded a grant to Dr. Charles E. Benson, associate professor of microbiology, for a primate for a scintillation counter. Dr. Peter J. Hand (V'86), professor of anatomy, and Dr. Jacqueline Metzler (V'85) also received a grant for the project Correlates of sensory disuse and recovery of function: Autoradiographic deoxyglucose studies of functional plasticity in the rat vibrissal-cortical barrel system.

Dr. Robert H. Whitlock, Marilyn M. Simpson Professor in Equine Medicine, was an invited speaker at the American Guernsey Association National Meeting at their international meeting held in Pittsburgh. His topic was Johne’s Disease in Cattle.

Dr. Whitlock, Dr. Voith, and Dr. Gail K. Smith (V'74), assistant professor of orthopedics, presented papers at the 39th Annual Meeting of the Morris Animal Foundation in Indianapolis, IN, in June.

Dr. Corinne Sweeney, assistant professor of medicine, participated in a panel discussion at the Arizona Veterinary Medical Association’s Continuing Education seminar in Sedona, AZ, in August.

Dr. Charles Benson, Jonathan Palmer (V'77), Ellen Ziemer, Richard Meinersmann (V'85), and Robert Whitlock presented papers at a national workshop on Potomac Horse Fever in Louisville, KY, in May.

Dr. Thomas J. Divers, associate professor of medicine, was an invited speaker at the University of Montreal May Conference and presented three seminars. Dr. Divers spoke at the Arizona Veterinary Medical Association’s Continuing Education seminar in Phoenix in July and presented a seminar on Practical intravital real, fluid and electrolyte therapy in equine practice.

Dr. Jay P. Farrell, associate professor of parasitology, is participating in the WHO Immunology Research and Training Group at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland.

Dr. Victoria Voith, adjunct assistant professor of medicine, presented three papers at the international meeting, The Dog in the Service of Humanity, held in Gelo, Norway, in May.

Dr. Lawrence R. Soma (V'57), professor of anesthesia, presented a paper, Steady state levels of anesthesia, at the Colloquium on Recognition and Ailleviation of Animal Pain and Distress, sponsored by the American Veterinary Medical Association, held in May in Chicago, IL.

Dr. Carl E. Kirkpatrick (V'81), assistant professor in veterinary pathology at the University of Illinois, College of Veterinary Medicine, recently received a National Institutes of Health Investigator Award for a project entitled GuineaPig leukemia virus: Role of skin in host resistance.

Mark T. Lutschning received the 1987 Pfizer Veterinary Student Award.

The Veterinary Technology Program at Michigan State University presented Excellence in Teaching awards to Dr. Peter J. Hand (V'61), associate professor of dermatology, Dr. Sally O. Walshaw (V'75), an associate professor in the Veterinary Technology Program at Michigan State University, has been elected the incoming president of the American Academy of Veterinary Dermatology.

Dr. Charles E. Benson, associate professor of medicine, participated in the WHO Immunology Research and Training Group at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland.

Dr. Robert R. Marshak. The portrait, a gift from the Board, will hang in the Small Animal Hospital's newly-dedicated Robert R. Marshak Gallery.

Dean Marshak Honored

Mr. Charles Wolf, Sr., and Dean Marshak.

On May 21, 1987, the Board of Overseers of the School of Veterinary Medicine unveiled a portrait of Dr. Robert R. Marshak. The portrait, a gift from the Board, will hang in the Small Animal Hospital's newly-dedicated Robert R. Marshak Gallery.

Mr. Charles Wolf, Sr., and Dean Marshak.

Teaching Awards

The Veterinary Student Government at the School presented the Annual Awards for Excellence in Teaching on April 24. Dr. Dudley E. Johnston, professor of surgery, received the Class of 1988 award; the recipient of the Class of 1989 award was Dr. Lawrence T. Glickman (V'72), professor of epidemiology. Dr. Joan Hendricks (V'79), assistant professor of medicine, received the Class of 1990 award; Dr. Daniel Dreyfuss, intern in medicine and surgery, New Bolton Center, received the Class of 1987 award. The Class of 1987 also presented Excellence in Teaching awards to Dr. William Bernard, resident in medicine, New Bolton Center. Ms. Sharon Swift, anesthesia nurse, VHUP, and Dr. Jeffrey A. Wortman (V'69), assistant professor of radiology.

The Veterinary Student Government Award for Excellence in Teaching has been designed to enable each of the four classes of the School to honor an individual who exemplifies the highest degree of proficiency in teaching.

The reception was co-sponsored by Bertholon Rowland Agencies, American Animal Hospital Association, Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association, Veterinary Medical Alumni Society, and The Upjohn Company.