of early Modern anthropology, discerning the poetics and politics of the rhetoric that proceeds from the anthropological form and reaches into literature, literary criticism, myth criticism and folklore studies.

Mechthild Rutsch (Instituto Nacional de Antropología e Historia, Mexico, D. F.) is conducting research on the relation between Boasian anthropology and early Mexican anthropology, and more generally is interested in the relation between romanticism and the view of the nation sustained by Mexican anthropology and indigenismo.

Tim Youngs (North American Studies, University of Nottingham) is finishing a dissertation on "British Narratives of Travel and Exploration in Africa, 1850-1900," in which he examines how the shifts in literary structures and the reception of the travel narratives affected and were affected by racial and imperialist ideologies.

BIBLIOGRAPHICA ARCANA

I. Recent Journal Numbers

Boletín De Historia de la Antropología: The second number (cf. HAN 15, #1:12) includes articles by Llorenç Prats, "Aportaciones de las Topografías Médicas al Conocimiento Etnográfico de los Paises Catalanes"; Encarnación Aguilar Criado, "Los Orígenes de la Antropología en Andalucía"; Conrado Rodríguez Martín, "Earnest Albert Hooton y la Paleopatología Canaria"; and José J. Jiménez González, "La Arqueología Canaria: Un Tubo de Ensayo".

Gradhiva: The sixth number of this very useful series—which sets a continuously rising standard of content and presentation—includes a French translation ("de l' américain") of an essay on "Totem Poles and the New Deal" by Aldona Jonaitis; a study of the institutional origins of French physical anthropology by Jean-Pierre Bocquet-Appel; and an essay by Bertrand Pulman on Seligman's contributions to psychoanalytic anthropology (see BA-III, below). Again, we urge French-reading readers of HAN to consider subscribing.

II. Recent Dissertations
(Ph. D. except where M.A. indicated)

Barkan, Elazar. "From Race to Ethnicity: Changing Conceptions of Race in England and the United States between the Two World Wars" (Brandeis University, 1988).

III. Recent Work by Subscribers

[Except in the case of new subscribers, for whom we will include one or two orienting items, "recent" is taken to mean within the last two years. Please note that we do not list "forthcoming" items. To be certain of dates and page numbers, please wait until your works have actually appeared before sending offprints (preferably), or citations in the style used in History of Anthropology and most anthropological journals]
