RESEARCH IN PROGRESS

Steve Alter (Department of History, University of Michigan) is starting research for a dissertation on the nineteenth century Yale University linguist William Dwight Whitney.

Penny Lee (Department of Education, University of Western Australia) is doing research on the linguistic work of Benjamin Lee Whorf.

Mary Anne Levine (Department of Anthropology, University of Massachusetts at Amherst) is working on a manuscript entitled "Uncovering a Buried Past: The History of Women in Americanist Archaeology to World War II."

Kit Malagoda (Sociology, University of Auckland) has for some time been carrying on research for a book focussing on the anthropological and archeological work of A. M. Hocart in South Asia.

Ruth Mandel (Department of Anthropology, University College, London) is planning research which will seek to compare the discourses surrounding immigration issues in Germany, Britain, and the United States.

Michael Richardson (Department of Anthropology and Sociology, School of Oriental and African Studies) plans to undertake research for a dissertation on "The Crisis of Objectivity in Anthropology: A Consideration through Romanticism and Surrealism."

Benoit Massin (History of Science, EHESS, Paris) is doing doctoral research on the "History of Racial Theories and their Main Critics in Germany, 1860-1945."

Patrick Wolfe (Department of History, University of Melbourne) is conducting doctoral research on the paradigm shift in British anthropology from evolutionism to structural functionalism in the context of major world events (the decline of European in favor of American power, the rise of international communism, etc.), major industrial and technological developments, and institutional and other factors.

BIBLIOGRAPHICA ARCANA
I. Recent Journal Numbers

Bulletin of the History of Archaeology—the first number of this new subdisciplinary publication appeared in May, and includes a number of the categories of HAN: current research, dissertations, recent work by subscribers, reports of academic gatherings, sources and announcements. In addition, BHA includes death notices, and plans in future numbers to include book and journal article reviews, as well as a short substantive articles under the heading "Discourse on the History of Archaeology." Although HAN will occasionally draw on the bibliographic listings of BHA (as they will doubtless draw on ours), we will not attempt to reproduce all the bibliographic material included therein. Readers who wish to subscribe to BHA ($5 US; $8 overseas) should communicate with the General Editor, Douglas R. Givens, Department of Behavioral Sciences, St. Louis Community College-Meremec, 11333 Big Bend Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri 63122.
