From the Dean

As we approach the Spring and the freshness of a New Year, we look forward to both new horizons and new beginnings.

Further steps in our focus on agricultural medicine are in evidence with the recent dedication of the Stubb’s Laboratory for poultry research. We have also cleared the paths for construction of the Mark W. Allam Dairy Cattle Teaching and Research facility and the Center for Animal Health and Productivity building, both at our New Bolton Center campus.

In April we will place a capstone on the most important and successful capital campaign ever attempted by the School, The Second Century Fund Campaign. The more than 40 million dollars provided through pledges, gifts and bequests will, in future years, provide the necessary fuel for the School’s continued growth.

Our Strategic Planning Steering Committee will have completed the bulk of its important and time consuming task. Already we have begun the process of reshaping our mission to coincide with the future needs of the Commonwealth, nation and indeed, the world.

Coincidental with our efforts, the new provost of the University has initiated a comprehensive planning process, hopefully to be completed by the end of this academic year.

What is of particular interest to us as a School are the areas on which he has chosen to focus. The seven committees currently working on this plan are:

- Undergraduate education
- Graduate education
- Professional education

Second Century Fund Nears the $40,000,000 Mark

The Second Century Fund continues to grow and is nearing the $40,000,000 mark. Generous support given by our many friends over the past few months raised the total on January 15, 1989 to $39,888,128!

Thank you everyone for making this past year a successful one at Penn. Since January 1, 1988, we added $6,866,000 to the Second Century Fund! This is a wonderful tribute to all of our contributors and to the many volunteers — Alumni, Board of Overseers and other friends — who helped in the effort. The credit for our success is due to all of you — Thank you.

We have a number of individuals to acknowledge for their generosity: Loy Awkerman, V.M.D.; Mr. A. W. Berry; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cohen; Mr. Robert Coul; Mr. John Deuss; Mr. & Mrs. Richard Eggleston; Mr. Frank Ewing; Mrs. Philip Fell; Mr. & Mrs. Edgar Griffiths; Mr. Richard Hammond; Elinor B. Jenny, V.M.D.; Mr. Eberhard LeSchein; J. D. McCullough, V.M.D.; Mrs. Gwynne McDevitt; Mr. & Mrs. Ellice McDonald, Jr.; Mr. Vincent Murphy; Mrs. Archibald Randolph; Mrs. Doris G. Rankin; Mr. & Mrs. Alan Robson; Mr. & Mrs. Hardie Scott; Mr. & Mrs. Gerald Schreiber; Mr. Steven Steinberg; Mrs. Mary Smith; Mrs. Laura Thorn; Mr. Oakleigh Thorne; Mrs. Ann F. Thorington; Mr. Alan Weiler; and Mr. & Mrs. Charles Wolf. In addition, gifts were received from the Estates of David George Jones and Lady Constantine J. Sorsbie.

A number of foundations made important contributions to the Fund: American Veterinary Medical Association Foundation; Arcadia Foundation; Biery Family Foundation; Business & Professional Women’s Foundation; Edna McConnell Clark Foundation; Connelly Foundation; Doris Duke Foundation; Equine Research Foundation; Grayson Foundation; Grundy Foundation; Dorothy Russell Havemeyer Foundation; Philip B. Hofmann 1966 Charitable Trust; National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation; Pellegrini Scholarship Fund; Pew Charitable Trusts; Reider Foundation; Roebuck Foundation; Marilyn S. Simpson Charitable Trust; and, W. W. Smith Charitable Trust.

The Robert J. Kleberg, Jr. and Helen C. Kleberg Foundation made a significant contribution to support a post-doctoral training program in veterinary genetics. The $431,164 grant over four years helps advance the School’s leadership in this important area. (See accompanying article elsewhere in this issue).

Gifts from corporate contributors also added to the total: Hill’s Pet Products; Howmedica; Kal Kan Foods, Lloyds of London Underwriters; Melton Bank East; Merck & Company; Pfizer; Henry Schein, Inc.; and, SmithKline Beckman Corporation.

Last, but certainly not least, a group of associations showed their support of our efforts: American Heart Association; American Livestock Education Program and the influence of our own mission and strategic plan.

Despite our continued fiscal constraints, we are blessed with a supportive faculty and staff, understanding students and generous alumni and friends. Together we will continue toward financial and organizational stability while reshaping our direction for the future.
