Anthropological Literature Online Through Citadel

The Research Libraries Group, Inc. announces that Anthropological Literature, the index to research in anthropology compiled by the Tozzer Library of Harvard University, is now available online through CitaDel, their citation and document delivery service. Anthropological Literature includes over 83,000 citations from a 1,000 journals and monographs, dating mainly from 1984 to the present, updated each quarter by 2,000 citations--and is in the process of retrospective conversion of approximately 200,000 article entries from the late 1880s to 1993.
