7-1-1990

Rosettes & Ribbons

This paper is posted at Scholarly Commons. http://repository.upenn.edu/bellwether/vol1/iss29/14
For more information, please contact libraryrepository@pobox.upenn.edu.
Dr. Darryl N. Blery, professor of radiology and Chief, Department of Clinical Studies (Philadelphia), was awarded the Distinguished Alumnus Award by The Animal Medical Center, New York.

The first Dr. Morris L. Ziskind Prize was awarded to Cynthia DiBuono (V’92). The prize is given to the student with the highest combined grade in Poultry Medicine, Epidemiology, and Veterinary Public Health.

Denise M. Atkinson (V’83) was one of 27 veterinary students from the U.S. and Canada to receive a 1990 IAMS Veterinary Scholarship. The scholarships are awarded to promote excellence in the veterinary field. Participants were required to write an essay on "Canine Collitis: Etiology, Diagnosis and Clinical Management."

Dr. Nancy O. Brown (V’73) was presented the Practitioner Research Award by the AVMA at the Association’s annual meeting in San Antonio, Texas. The award is given annually to a practicing veterinarian in recognition of outstanding accomplishments in veterinary medical research.

Dr. James G. Fos, adjunct professor of comparative medicine, received the 13th Charles River Prize which is presented by the Charles River Foundation to a veterinarian selected by the AVMA in recognition of distinguished contributions to the field of laboratory animal science.

Dr. Richard A. McFeely (V’64), professor of animal reproduction, has been appointed general campaign manager and vice president of the campaign for the 1990-91 Kennett Area United Fund Drive.

Dr. Suzanne R. Jenkins (V’66) was elected to the AVMA Council of Public Health and Regulatory Affairs.

Dean Edwin J. Andrews (V’67) has been elected to the AVMA Council on Research. He was also elected president-elect of the American Veterinary Colleges. Dean Andrews participated in the Eleventh Symposium on Veterinary Medical Education at Auburn University in June. He was convener for the workshop "Faculty Research. The College of Physicians of Philadelphia elected Dr. Andrews a Fellow of the College.

Dr. Sherbyn Ostrich (V’63) has been appointed president of the AVMA Foundation.

Dr. Gerhard Schad, professor of parasitology, has been invited to participate in a SEAMEO-TROPMEDE Seminar, held in November in Chiang Mai, Thailand. The topic of the three-day seminar will be "Emerging Problems in Food-Borne Parasite Zoonosis: Impact on Agriculture and Public Health."

Dr. Janet Remetta (V’85) has been elected to serve a second term as chairman-elect of the New Jersey Health Products Council. The Council is a statewide nonprofit information and public affairs agency composed of New Jersey’s major research-oriented health products companies.

Dr. Robert A. Cook (V’80) was appointed chief veterinarian of the New York Zoological Society.

Roger Cars, a member of the School’s Board of Overseers, won an Emmy award for his 20/20 segment on wild horses.

Dr. Urs Giger was promoted to associate professor of medicine and medical genetics in Clinical Studies (Philadelphia). The Devon Rex Congress recently honored Dr. Giger for his research work on neonatal hyperbilirubinemia and spasticity. The organization presented him the "1990 Randy Award," which is given annually to an individual or organization contributing to the betterment of the Devon Rex breed.

Dr. Edwin A. Churchill (V’41) received a Distinguished Life Member award from the American Association of Equine Practitioners, the highest honor bestowed by the Association. Dr. Churchill served as president of the AAEP in 1958 and was a member of the organization’s executive board. He has been an active member of the AAEP for 34 years and was recognized for his outstanding service to the Association and dedication to the veterinary profession.

At the recent ACVM meeting in Washington, DC, Dr. Jorg Bucheler received the Smith-Kline-Beacham resident award for this presentation entitled "Transfusion of A and B blood in cats." Dr. Bucheler has been the Transfusion Medicine Fellow for the past year.

Dr. Leslie Dierauf (V’74) has been awarded the third AVMA Congressional Fellowship. Dr. Dierauf will begin her fellowship with an orientation at the American Association for the Advancement of Science in September. Then, she will interview for positions in Congressional offices.

Dr. Edward Baker (V’48) is the author of Small Animal Allergy: A Practical Guide. The book was published by Lea and Febiger.

Dr. Robert R. Marshak, professor of medicine, was inducted into the National Academy of Sciences’ Institute of Medicine.

Dr. Joan Hendricks (V’79) has been promoted to associate professor of medicine. Dr. Michael Goldschmidt has been promoted to professor of pathology in pathology. Dr. William A. Moyer has been promoted to professor of sports medicine in Clinical Studies (NBC).

Dr. Charles Curtis has been appointed assistant professor of epidemiology in Clinical Studies (NBC), and Dr. Phillip Scott has been appointed assistant professor of parasitology in the department of pathobiology.

The following faculty members were reappointed: Dr. David T. Golligan (V’81) as assistant professor of animal health economics in Clinical Studies (NBC); Dr. Raymond W. Sweeney (V’82) as assistant professor of medicine in Clinical Studies (NBC); and Dr. Elaine Parison as assistant professor of reproduction in Clinical Studies (NBC).

Dr. Michael S. Miller (V’79) has co-authored the Cardiology Pocket Reference published by the American Animal Hospital Association. He gave a series of cardiology lectures at the 1990 AAHA annual meeting and Academy of Veterinary Cardiology meeting in San Francisco. Dr. Miller is co-authoring the chapter on Cardiac Electro-physiology in the upcoming edition of Duke’s Physiology with Dr. David Betweiler (V’42) and Dr. Larry Tilley. Dr. Miller is vice president and board member of Cardiopet, Inc.

The new residents at VHUP and New Bolton Center will not only rely on the U.S. and Canada for new fellowship programs.

The internships at VHUP are: Dr. Beth Ann Brockman, University of Illinois, ’90; Dr. Ann Crump (V’90), Dr. Karen Marie Fidel!, Michigan State University, ’90; Dr. Julie M. Heitzener (V’90); Dr. Derek Hughes, University of Liverpool, ’90; Dr. Jonathan Peres, Koret School of Veterinary Medicine, ’89; Dr. Jill L. Robson, University of Liverpool, ’89; Dr. Carl D. Vanamorco, University of Liverpool, ’89; Dr. Lauren E. Stiune (V’90); Dr. Patricia C. Walters (V’90); and Dr. Caroline J. Zeiss, University of Pretoria, ’90.

The new residents at VHUP are: in laboratory animal medicine, Dr. Joan Cole, Purdue University, ’77; Dr. Larry Hand, Michigan State University, ’87; Dr. Norman C. Peterson, University of Illinois, ’89; in surgery, Dr. Daniel M. Brehm (V’89); Dr. Catherine A. Popovitch, University of Guelph, ’89; in veterinary dentistry, Dr. Paul G. Orsini, N.Y. State Veterinary School, ’82; in emergency medicine, Dr. Nishi Dhupa, University of Nairobi, ’86; Dr. Robert Moreau, University of California-Davis, ’85; in radiology, Dr. Pamela A. Green, Ohio State University, ’88; Dr. Rosa Mendez-Angular, University of Mexico, ’81; in small animal medicine, Dr. Christian Johannes Genks, University of Utrecht, ’85; Dr. Alan R. Klag, University of Montreal, ’87; in cardiology, Dr. Maribeth Bostaby (V’88).

Dr. Robert A. Cook (V’80) is an intern in field service. Dr. Abby Maxson (V’87) and Dr. Laura Reilly (V’89) are residents in medicine. Dr. Elizabeth Laws, Tufts University, ’89 and Dr. Eric Parente, New York State University Cornell, ’89 are residents in surgery. Dr. Paul Kerns (V’79) is the new resident in avian medicine and pathology. Dr. Celeste Boatwright and Dr. Forrest Ross Rich are junior surgery clinicians.

Dr. Wolfgang Kaehn is a visiting professor in large animal reproduction from the University of Munich. His primary interest is neonatal medicine and he is here to work in the new neonatal unit at NBC.

Dr. Monika Grot-Town from the University of Bonn is the new fellow in Dr. Giger’s NIH-funded Transfusion Medicine Academic Award Program.

Dr. Robert A. Cook (V’80) has been elected to the AVMA Council on Research. He was also elected president-elect of the American Veterinary Colleges. Dean Andrews participated in the Eleventh Symposium on Veterinary Medical Education at Auburn University in June. He was convener for the workshop "Faculty Research. The College of Physicians of Philadelphia elected Dr. Andrews a Fellow of the College.

Dr. Sherbyn Ostrich (V’63) has been appointed president of the AVMA Foundation.

Dr. Gerhard Schad, professor of parasitology, has been invited to participate in a SEAMEO-TROPMEDE Seminar, held in November in Chiang Mai, Thailand. The topic of the three-day seminar will be "Emerging Problems in Food-Borne Parasite Zoonosis: Impact on Agriculture and Public Health."

Dr. Janet Remetta (V’85) has been elected to serve a second term as chairman-elect of the New Jersey Health Products Council. The Council is a statewide nonprofit information and public affairs agency composed of New Jersey’s major research-oriented health products companies.

Dr. Robert A. Cook (V’80) was appointed chief veterinarian of the New York Zoological Society.