II. Recent Dissertations (Ph.D. except where otherwise indicated)

Richard Delisle (University of Witwatersrand, 1998), “The field of human evolution within evolutionary biology and anthropology: Historical and epistemological analyses since inception”—consisting of nine papers published or in press.

Sarah Froning [Deleporte] (perio2@aol.com) completed a masters’ thesis entitled “The exhibition of Native North Americana in France, 1492-1992, from the royal Cabinet de Singularitez to ‘A la recontre des Amériques at the Musée de l’Homme in Paris’” (Sorbonne, 1995)

III. Recent Work by Subscribers

[Except in the case of new subscribers, for whom we will include one or two orienting items, "recent" is taken to mean within the last two years. Please note that we do not list "forthcoming" items. To be certain of dates and page numbers, please wait until your works have actually appeared before sending offprints (preferably) or citations in the style used in History of Anthropology and most anthropological journals]

IV. Suggested by our Readers

[Although the subtitle does not indicate it, the assumption here is the same as in the preceding section: we list "recent" work—i.e., items appearing in the last several years. Entries without initials were contributed by G.W.S. Occasionally, readers call our attention to errors in the entries, usually of a minor typographical character. Typing the entries is a burdensome task (undertaken normally by G.W.S.), and under the pressure of getting HAN out, some proofreading errors occasionally slip by. For these we offer a blanket apology, but will not normally attempt corrections. Once again, we call attention to the listings in the Bulletin of the History of Archaeology, the entries in the annual bibliographies of Isis, and those in the Bulletin d’information de la SFHSH [Société française pour l’histoire des sciences de l’homme]—each of which takes information from HAN, as we do from them—although selectively]
