

North American Veterinary Conference Alumni Reception

More than 100 School of Veterinary Medicine alumni and their guests attended a reception at the North American Veterinary Conference in Orlando, Fla., on January 14, 2001. The alumni attending the conference represented class years from 1947 to 2000 and had traveled from states ranging from California to Maine. Although Dean Alan M. Kelly was unable to travel to the conference due to an illness, everyone enjoyed the opportunity to socialize with fellow alumni during the conference.

Teaching aids for Mongolian Veterinary School

The members of the Student Public Health Club collected textbooks, journals, slides and other teaching and study materials for the veterinary school in Ulan Bator, Mongolia. The items were shipped there and presented by Dr. Amanda Fine, V'97, to the school and its students. The dean of the school, Dr. Orgil, presented Dr. Fine with a painting to be given to Penn's School of Veterinary Medicine in gratitude for the materials.
