Recent Gifts of Note

The School received $60,000 from the estate of Jean Shepherd to establish a scholarship for women in the name of Leigh Brown Shepherd. Jean Shepherd died in October 1999 at the age of 78, he was a resident of Sanibel Island, FL.

Mary R. Romig-DeYoung, through her estate, provided $250,000 for an endowment fund to support animal care and treatment at VHUP. Mrs. Romig-DeYoung, who died in October 2000, was a long-time supporter of the University.

Thoroughbred Charities of America contributed $50,000 to New Bolton Center for equipment for the Scott Equine Sports Medicine Building. This organization is a charity created by Herb and Ellen Moelis, long-time supporters of the School. Herb is a member of the School's Board of Overseers.

General Econopak, specialists in surgical apparel and products, made a donation of $30,000 to the School. General Econopak has had a long-standing relationship with the School and its hospitals. Half of the funds will be used at New Bolton for the purchase of equipment. The remainder will be used at VHUP for installation of external nitrogen lines to power special equipment in the surgery suites. A bequest of $10,000 from the estate of Lynne Wickenden will also be applied to this VHUP project.
