Stretch Your Racehorses.... Resources

Dean Rush Shippen Huidekoper on Pandora in an Eadweard Muybridge study in the late 19th century. (We stretched the picture.)

A life income gift can help you to stretch your charitable giving resources.

Charitable remainder trusts and charitable gift annuities are tax-deductible contributions that allow you to keep income from the assets that you donate. Proceeds go to the School of Veterinary Medicine, Ryan Veterinary Hospital or New Bolton Center after your death.

- With rates at 5% to 9.5%, you might even double or triple your return.
- You will enjoy significant tax savings.
- Some plans pay tax-exempt income.
- It's like the Trifecta of charitable giving.

Sample Benefits (one income beneficiary)

Age of income beneficiary	$10,000 charitable gift annuity (fixed income)		$100,000 charitable remainder unitrust (variable income)
	Income rate	One-time income tax deduction	Income rate	One-time income tax deduction
60	6.0%	$2,175	5.0%	$39,870
65	6.3%	$2,766	5.5%	$43,457
70	6.7%	$3,397	6.0%	$47,986
75	7.3%	$3,990	6.5%	$53,245
80	8.3%	$4,497	7.0%	$59,325
85+	9.5% (max. rate)	$5,099+	7.5%+	$65,722+

The Flea Club is in Search of a New Piano! by Emily Jones, V'05, Flea Club Director

Do you or anyone you know have a piano that isn't wanted anymore? Why not donate it to the Flea Club? We are Penn Veterinary Medicine's premiere singing group composed of students, faculty and staff. Currently we have about 15 members, and we practice once a week and give concerts at the end of every semester and during the Annual SCAVMA Auction.

Now we're looking for your help, as our one-legged, sticky-keyed piano continues to deteriorate. We all love singing and providing entertainment to the School community. We sing everything from popular music to religious and secular holiday favorites. So if you can help us continue to do that by helping us find a new piano, we'd love to hear from you!

If you are able to help or if you have any questions, please contact me via e-mail at <ecj@mail.vet.upenn.edu>. Thanks a lot!
