BIBLIOGRAPHICA ARCANA

I. Anthropologies of the South--Belatedly, we note the appearance of the first number (January, 1944), of a bibliographic bulletin edited by two of our readers, Esteban Krotz (Universidad Autónoma de Yucatán, Mexico) and Mariza Corrêa (Universidade Estadual de Campinas, Brazil), entitled Antropologías del Sur/Antopologias do Sul/Anthropologies of the South, which will include historiography of anthropology. Although at present a Latin-American network, the hope is to include African and Asian scholarship--in short, those parts of the world traditionally the "objects" of anthropological inquiry, in which the discipline is now rapidly developing.
