

future possibilities. The editors seek the widest possible definition of disciplinary history and place no thematic constraints on research. They solicit work on all subdisciplines, and work that transcends subdisciplinary boundaries, from any national traditions. We welcome research that contextualizes the developments in anthropology within broader frameworks of interdisciplinary histories. HOAA invites articles, commentary, and book reviews or review essays. The first volume has just gone to press and will appear in the fall of 2005. Manuscripts should be sent to either of the editors:

Regna Darnell	Frederic W. Gleach
Dept. of Anthropology	106 East Lincoln St.
London ON Canada N6A 5C2	Ithaca NY 14850
rdarnell@uwo.ca	fwg2@twcny.rr.com

UPCOMING PROFESSIONAL MEETINGS

The Fifth British-North American Joint Meeting of the British Society for the History of Science, Canadian Society for the History and Philosophy of Science, and History of Science Society will be held in Halifax, Nova Scotia, August 5-7. Sessions of interest to historians of anthropology include: "Networking Human Origins: Case Studies in the History of Anthropology and Archaeology", "Exhibiting Human Beings in the Nineteenth Century", and "Colonialism and the Human Sciences." For the complete program, visit: <http://www.hssonline.org/3Societies/index.html>.

Alexander von Humboldt: From the Americas to the Cosmos" will be held at the Graduate Center of the City University of New York on 14-16 October. For more information, see <http://web.gc.cuny.edu/dept/bildn/humboldtconference/home.htm>.

The 2004 Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association will be held November 17-21 in San Francisco at the Hilton Towers. The theme will be "Magic, Science and Religion."

The History of Science Society will meet 18-21 November 18-21 in Austin, Texas, at the Hyatt Regency.

The Seventh Annual Philosophy of Social Science Roundtable will be held in New York at Barnard College, Columbia University on March 11-13, 2005. The Roundtable brings together philosophers and social scientists to discuss philosophical issues raised in and by social research. The conference organizers welcome one page abstracts on any topic in the philosophy of the social sciences. The deadline for submission is December 15, 2004. Selected papers from the roundtable will be published in an annual special issue of Philosophy of the Social Sciences. For more information, go to: <http://bc.barnard.columbia.edu/~awylie/RoundtableIndex.html>.

The 26th American Indian Workshop will meet April 11-13 2005 in Munich. The meeting's theme is "New Buffalos—New Ways? Traditions and Transitions in Native American Culture." The deadline for paper submissions is October 31, 2004. For more information, visit: <http://www.amerikahaus.de/program/events/AIW26/AIW26.html>.